03/09/09:

RJR Engineering is pleased to announce the addition of Chad Dugas, P.E. to our staff. Chad is a licensed electrical engineer and is currently licensed in 8 states.

Chad's extensive background in the electrical engineering field includes power distribution and controls.

If there's anything Chad, or any other staff member of RJR can do for you, please give us a call.

RJR Engineering provides professional engineering services in the civil, structural, electrical and mechanical engineering disciplines, and we serve all client types: private, manufacturing/industrial, municipal and government. We do have several relationships in place that span from large, multinational companies to small and emerging businesses to help us meet the demands of project requirements, and client needs. We operate under an ASME NQA-1 Quality Assurance Program.
